Manager E. C. Wilson, of the George Washington football team, has anmounced the official schedule for the sea-son of 1906, which coincides with that published in last Monday's Times. The Hatchetites open up on October 6 with Lehigh at Lehigh, and closes with Georgetown on Thanksgiving Day at the Blue and Gray field. One big drawing card which was on the list last year, that with the Carlisle Indians, has been cut off, and in its place is substituted a game with the University of West Virginia on November 3. The date has been clinched, but there is still some controversy as to where it shall be play-ed. It 's probable, however, that it will take place here, and if it does, should prove one of the best games of the season excepting that with Georgetown for local college championship. It will be the first time that the institution has

Hard Games Ahead.

The contest between Washington and Lee and the locals should also be a good one, as this eleven defeated George Washington last Thanksgiving Day in a hard-fought game, which the Washington men should have won but for their condition. This year, after experience which will derive from playing such teams as Lehigh, Swarthmore, West The Score. Virginia and Western Maryland, they should have little trouble with the visi-

With the announcement of the football schedule comes the confirmation of Crowell's acceptance of the position of coach of the team. This is one of the best pieces of news which the students have had for some time, as they think that with such a man to instruct the candidates, and with Captain Steenerson to again lead the eleven, George Washington will give their West End rivals even a harder rub for the honors next fall than they gave them last.

MARQUETTE LEAGUE.

Neuman's umpiring is such an improvement over that done by the other aspirants for the job that he is now the official "ump." of the league. He demands fast playing and no back-talk

The first series of games closed Saturday and the official batting and fielding averages will appear in a few days.

Seitz, who played with the St. Paul outfit last year, was in the game for the former champions the other day, and got a run, two put-outs, and an assis from center field.

Tierney, of St. Patrick, is very clever on the bases. Next to Ray Brennan, he is about the best man to lead off in the league. He hits when hits mean runs.

There is no doubt but that Marceron is one of the best catchers in the Marquette. His playing is snappy of late and his hitting good.
